Building a Customer-Centric Service Culture

INTRODUCTION

- Satisfying our customers is essential, whether they are internal or external customers. To do this we must focus all our activities on delighting our customers; that is becoming Customer-Centric.
 Organisations understand the values of becoming customer-centric, but the transformation is challenging. The change must start internally, how we work with other employees.
- This highly engaging Building a Customer-Centric Service Culture training course demonstrates how to measure the current level of customer centricity by better understanding your customer experiences and requirements; and reinvent your brand and culture to deliver the perfect customer service experience. This will both challenge and excite delegates, inspiring them into action having experienced the power of customer-centric thinking. The training course will also disclose The Building Blocks for a Customer Centric Service Culture and how delegates can strengthen their own customer culture and influence that of other functions. Superb service is delivered by people to people even in this age of high technology. All delegates will leave the course with a challenging but realistic personal plan to drive a customer centric service culture across their area of responsibility.

Delegates attending Building a Customer-Centric Service Culture training course will develop the following competencies:

- How to measure the level of customer centricity
- What the perfect customer service experience looks like for your customers
- How to utilise Customer Journey Mapping
- Development of Brand Values and Behaviours
